Join the City of Santa Fe Springs for an Active Transportation Workshop

This is an interactive workshop where you can hear about the City’s Active Transportation Plan that is currently underway, and the upcoming community outreach event called the ‘Living Preview’ that will demonstrate temporary improvements to promote walking and biking on your streets! Come learn about the types of improvements that can make your streets safer, how to quickly test ideas for streets through DIY (tactical urbanism) bike lanes and crosswalks and how to participate or volunteer for the Living Preview!

No technical knowledge is necessary; your enthusiasm for walking and biking is enough!
